PROTECTED VICE AGAIN THE RULE

Stockade Once More in Operation With Obvious Consent of Officialdom.

PROTESTS HAVE BEEN IN VAIN.

Residents Were Vigorous in Their De mands That Walled City of Sin Be Kept Closed.

With the obvious consent of the city administration, the infamous stock-ade is running once more with all its administration, the intramous stock and is running once more with all its pristine debauchery. The women of the streets are being herded within its high walls and orders have gone forth, sub rosa orders which there is no mistaking, that the red light of city licentiousness must be seen in no other place, with some notable exceptions, than this stockaded inclosure between First and Second South and Fourth and Fifth West.

The gathering of the lost clans in the stockade has been going on very quietly since the first of the year, when the first edict was whispered about the streets. This was followed by a general stampede of high heels and scented silks. There was a frenzied competition for choice locations and fast upon the footsteps of the painter and paperhanger came the influx. Today there are over 200 women who have habitations within these walls and there are additions as fast as the houses can be prepared for them.

RUNNING WIDE OPEN.

Preparations indicate that the stockade is again to become a scene of mid-

RUNNING WIDE OPEN.

Preparations indicate that the stockade is again to become a scene of midnight revelry such as it never attained in the past. Thousands of dollars are being invested in "improvements" of the properties. The sidewalks and roads, which became sadly demoished during the cloture, are being repaired, and the sound of the hammer and saw during the day join noises with the ribald shouts of the darkness. The saloons which border either side of the street are doing a land office business both by day and night and lawlessness is becoming rampant.

Saturday night last the stockade and vicinity was thronged with an hilarious crowd. The word had gone forth that again the aegis of official Sait Lake had been spread over the place and that within the walls there would be no police interference. The rearrooms of the saloons bordering upon the stockade were frequent resorts of scantify clad females who wantonly the stockade were frequent resorts of scantily clad females who wantonly flaunted their vices in the face of the public. There have been protests against the reopening of the stockade by nearby residents, but they have gone unheeded.

Shortly after the city election of last fall the rehabilitation of the stockade began. At the time attention was called to the fact by The News, but it was denied most emphatically by the city administration. The prediction that the infamous place would once more be opened and "protected" by the police has come true.

AUTOMOBILE RUN DOWN.

Bievelist Makes Spectacular Dash and Lands in Hospital.

some unaccountable reason, For some unaccountable reason, T. Shustaka, a Japanese, deliberately rode his bicycle into P. J. Moran's big automobile Sunday afternoon. The spectacular event took place in front of 568 west Second South street. The Moran machine was coming toward town when Shustaka, riding at a rapid clip, threw one hand in the air and turned the bicycle into the automobile. When the Jap regained consciousness he found himself in the emergency hospital at police headquarters and Dr. F. B. Steele was patching up a big gash in the Jap's head. The man was taken to his home in Commercial street where a physician, sent by Mr. Moran, attended him.

QUICK WORK BY OFFICERS.

Sheriff's Deputies Get Man Wanted in Butte on Short Order.

Within five minutes after receiving a request from Sheriff J. K. O'Rourke of Butte to arrest and hold Charles Shmall on the charge of grand larceny, Shmall was locked in the county Jall. The message was received by Sheriff J. C. Sharp and he detailed Deputies Andrew Smith and Dick Eddington to locate the man. The officers soon located Shmall and took him to the county Jall. The prisoner refused to discuss the case beyond saying he was glad he is going back to Butte.

According to information from Butte Shmall worked for Joseph Boulet in a cafe and one night recently stole a diamond ring valued at $185. Arriving in Salt Lake he pawned the ring for $65 and then sold the pawn ticket for $5. Within five minutes after receiving held Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 2225 Seventh East street. The Rev. P. A. Simpkin of Phillips Congregational church conducted the services. Burial was at Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pallbearers were David McKendrick, Clark, Nash, James Lamont, McMillin and W. M. Griffin. The deceased is survived by a widow and four children.

The Modern Drama—Miss Maud May Babcock of the University of Utah delivered a lecture at Unity hall Sunday night on "The Modern Drama." She severely criticised most modern dramatists, but spoke highly of Henrik Ibsen and T. W. Robertson. She thinks money and too much proneness to mechanism and stage effects work injury to the modern drama. She says dramatists are working for money, not for dramatic effect. She thinks much of Dwight Moody and his "Great Divide." also of some of David Belasco's work.

West Side Residents Enter Protest Against Closing Gale Street.

Residents of the neighborhood of Gale street, located between Second

Residents of the neighborhood of Gale street, located between Second and Third West and Eighth and Ninth South streets, are protesting against the closing of that street between the blocks named by P. J. Moran, who has built fences on the Eighth and Ninth South street sides, and according to inhabitants living in the vicinity, is using the enclosd space as a warehouse and stable. Gale street extends south through several blocks to American avenue, and beyond the block in question is inhabited by many people who are put to great inconvenience by the closing up of the street by Moran. "Gale street was dedicated to the city several years ago. I understand," said I. Lester, who is one of the aggrieved residents and resides at 341 west Ninth South street, "and the people of that neighborhood do not see how P. J. Moran or any other man can come in and close up a public street for private purposes. I understand that Moran purchased a lot of land bordering Gale street on the block he closed up, but that did not give him the right to fence in the street. The people of the district are incensed over the matter and although we have talked to several councilmen on the subject we have had no relief. A petition will be circulated and presented to the city council asking for relief and that Moran be compelled to vacate the public street."

PARENTS' CLASS LECTURES.

For several months the parents ses in the Ensign stake have been studying various problems relative to the proper bringing up of children. The outlined plan has been printed in book form and is being studied and disform and is being studed and discussed's systematically. Once every

Eleventh ward, Professor George
Coray of the University of Utah, Subject, "The Duty of Parents to Children."

Twelfth-Thireenth ward, Professor B, S, Hinckley of the L. D. S. Univer-sity, Subject, "Play Grounds for Chil-Gren."

Eighteenth ward, Professor George
M. Marshall of the University of Utah.
Subect. "Some Aspects of Bible study."
Twentieth ward, Senator Carl A.
Badger, Subject, "The Law Relating to Parent and Child."
Twenty-first ward, William E.
Rydalch. Subject, "Ideals."
Twenty-seventh ward, Judge Alex McMaster, Subject, "The Work of the Juvenile Court."
